BIG NEW FACTORY IS NOW ASSURED

New Gettysburg Furniture Company will Start Operations on New Manufacturing Establishment in which 75 will be Employed.

The Gettysburg Furniture Company will in the very near future start operations on the erection of a large new manufacturing establishment in the eastern end of town for the manufacture of china closets. Seventy-five men will be employed at the start of operations in the plant and this number will be increased as demand for the product increases.

For about five years C. S. Reaser has been at the head of the Reaser Furniture Company of this place which has grown in that time from a plant employing seventeen men to one employing one hundred and fourteen hands. Substantial profits have been made, the plant has been largely increased in size and thoroughly equipped the factory has been made such a paying proposition that the payment of dividends has been commenced and the business has proved the most valuable asset in the manufacturing line that Gettysburg has ever had.

Some months ago Mr. Reaser started a company in Hanover for the manufacture of china closets. At the Gettysburg plant only buffets are being made and the product of the Hanover plant is made after a similar design so that both pieces sell in a scint. The Hanover plant has been a complete success and Mr. Reaser and Mr. E. P. Miller, both Gettysburg citizens and both interested in the welfare of the town, decided to bring the industry to Gettysburg for the benefit of this town.

Accordingly an effort was made to secure subscriptions of stock among local residents and it was quickly taken. The company will be capitalized at $50,000 of which $40,000 is available for immediate subscription. Of this $40,000 has been subscribed by about sixty different individuals nearly all of whom are Gettysburg business men, the balance being out-of-town furniture men. The remaining $8,000 will be disposed of to local people in case they want it, otherwise it will also be taken by furniture men from a distance and there will be no trouble marketing the stock.

The Gettysburg Furniture Company will be in no way connected with the Reaser Furniture Company. The new business concern will locate its factory, which will be of brick and modern in every particular, on the land east of that occupied by the Gettysburg Gas Company and immediately across the Western Maryland railroad from the plant of the Reaser factory. The buildings will be 165 feet in length and from 60 to 75 feet in width. Much of the machinery has been acquired and just as soon as the materials for the buildings can be gathered work will be commenced on erecting the establishment. It is expected that the finished product can be turned out of the plant in time for the New York furniture show in July.

The fact that the plant will employ seventy-five hands at the start and that this number will be increased later on means much to the business interests of the town. A large number of applications for work have already been received, a number of them from out of town and while many town men can find employment there it will bring skilled mechanics from a distance and without doubt increase considerably the number of families residing here. The success of the enterprise will mean to Gettysburg just what the success of the Reaser plant has meant and that is so well known as to need no exploitation.

The Hanover plant will continue in operation but a different line of goods will be manufactured and its product will not come into competition with that of the factory of the Gettysburg Furniture Company.

MARRIED IN HAGERSTOWN

Miss Edna Ridinger, of Gettysburg, and Claude Beegle, Captain of College Foot Ball Team Surprise their Local Friends.

Miss Edna Ridinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Ridinger, of Hanover street, was married on Monday afternoon to Claude Beegle, a Junior in college, the first knowledge of the wedding being learned in Gettysburg late in the afternoon when the bride's parents received a telegram telling of the event.

The wedding was a great surprise to the many friends of both the bride and groom. Mrs. Ridinger stated this morning that the family knew that her daughter and Mr. Beegle were to be married but had no idea it was to occur so soon. They were under the impression that she was spending the day with a friend in town and knew nothing about the trip to Hagerstown until after the telegram came. Mr. Beegle was equally quiet at college about his plans and his most intimate friends knew nothing of the affair until evening though he took with him the majority of his personal effects. Whether or not he will continue his studies is not known.

Mr. Beegle is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and very prominent in college athletics. His well known ability won him election as captain of the foot ball team for next fall. He was a regular guard on the basket ball team and took part in other college activities. His home is in Everett.

It is expected that Mr. and Mrs. Beegle will take a trip of several days before returning to Gettysburg. What their plans will be after that is not known.

TWO CASES ARGUED

Two local cases were argued in the Superior Court on Monday, the case of the School Board of Gettysburg vs. the School Board of Cumberland township; and the case of Hershey vs. Delone.

In the first case the Gettysburg School Board contends that they are entitled to tuition for the scholars from Cumberland township who attend Gettysburg school for the full term of nine months while the School Board of the township claim they are liable for only seven months. In the local court the Cumberland township Board, represented by J. L. Rutt, Esq., received the decision. D. P. McPherson, representing the Gettysburg Board, appealed the case.

In the case of Hershey vs. Delone there will be decided for the first time whether the owner of land upon which a widow's dower has previously been charged is personally liable for the widow's annual interest where the land is unproductive and the owner obtains no income from it. Geo. J. Benner and C. J. Delone presented the appellant's (Mr. Delone's) side of the case and Chas. S. Duncan and John D. Keith represented the plaintiff.

RESTRICTIONS REMOVED FROM POSTAL BANKS

Postmaster C. Wm. Beales has been advised by the United States postoffice department that the restriction which permitted only residents of this town to deposit postal savings at the Gettysburg postoffice has been removed and he is authorized to open accounts with any person who makes application. This will enable patrons of any of the county post offices to enjoy the privileges of the new system, which is growing in popularity.

FINAL EFFORT TO SAVE GILBERT

Claims Whiskey so Clouded his Mind that he Did not Know what he was doing when he Slew Former Gettysburg Man.

A final effort is on foot to save from the gallows Leonidas Gilbert, the negro who killed Daniel Miller, former proprietor of Hotel Gettysburg, in Harrisburg last summer. Gilbert's attorneys have filed with the Board of Pardons a petition to commute the sentence to life imprisonment, claiming as the chief reason for clemency that the murderer was so thoroughly under the influence of whiskey on the day of the crime that he did not know what he was doing. Unless the Board interposes, Gilbert will hang on March 26.

The papers filed with the Board of Pardons are quite voluminous and complete, comprising not only the reasons for commutation, but also a history of the case and the testimony taken at the trial.

Gilbert tells the Board that he was never before convicted of any crime. On the day of the crime, he says, in a spirit of conviviality and indulgence with friends, he drank at various times a quart of whiskey. When he was discharged by Mr. Miller for neglecting his work he did not know what he was doing. His faculties were so benumbed and befuddled by whiskey that he could not have formed a legal premeditated intent to kill Miller.

Two witnesses, Harris and Lee, waiters at the Dauphin, who testified in court that he was sober when he committed the murder, had declared previously that he was drunk, but this was not known to the attorneys for Gilbert until after the trial, and they submit evidence in proof of this assertion. It is maintained that the majority of the witnesses sworn as to Gilbert's mental condition were employees of the Dauphin hotel and under the direction of Harry Miller, a brother of the man Gilbert murdered.

Gilbert's previous reputation was sworn to be good, both in Harrisburg and in Winchester, Va. It is held that there was a total absence of reasonable motive to impel a rational man to take life under the circumstances. On the morning after the shooting Gilbert insists that he had only a vague and indefinite idea of what had taken place the night before. Finally, the law will be vindicated and the ends of justice satisfied by granting the commutation.

The Board of Pardons will meet on March 20, and in the meantime it is said to be the intention of the attorneys and friends of Gilbert to secure petitions asking the Board to grant the commutation and make his punishment imprisonment for life instead of death on the gallows.

LOCAL VETERANS TO OBSERVE DAY

Members of Corporal Skelly Post will Follow Order of National Commander Regarding Memorial Day Celebration.

Corporal Skelly Post will observe, with Grand Army men all over the country, a general order sent out by National Commander in Chief H. M. Trimble, which directs that the order of the late John A. Logan (establishing Memorial Day) be read at all of the Decoration Day exercises under the auspices of the Grand Army on May 30 in addition to Lincoln's address at Gettysburg.

General Logan issued the order on May 5, 1868, when he was the National Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

In his Memorial Day order Commander-in-Chief Trimble calls attention to a resolution adopted by the National Encampment "raising its dignified protest against all desecrations of Memorial Day by those seeking to introduce horse parades and other detracting shows and exhibitions tending to break down and destroy the sublime sacredness of the soldiers' Sabbath."

Commander Trimble also commands the observance of the suggestion made in the Philadelphia Press a year ago that bells be rung and flags lowered to half mast from 12 noon to 12:05 on Memorial Day while comrades of the G. A. R. and the people generally stand with bared heads. He and his associates of the Grand Council are preparing a request to President Taft that a proclamation be issued asking for the general observance of this suggestion. The commander says:

"Comrades of the Grand Army of the Republic will set the example for their fellow citizens by standing uncovered during the five minute period and our allied organizations, the Sons of Veterans, Ladies of the Grand Army of the Republic and Ladies' Relief Corps will take similar action."

AIMS BLOW AT CONGRESSMEN

Would Silence Manufactured Applause.

TO BAR IT FROM RECORD

Resolution Would Place Ban on Cheers and Laughter For "Home Consumption."

Washington, March 12.—The congressional palm will be spared, and the back districts no longer will reach how loudly and tumultuously their congressmen were applauded and cheered, if the resolution of Representative H. Garland Dupre, of Louisiana, is passed by the house.

Mr. Dupre proposes that no inscriptions of applause or other manifestations of approval shall appear in the Congressional Record. His resolution was referred to the committee on printing.

Applause in the house and applause in the Record are two different emotions. Mr. Dupre, finding it difficult to differentiate between bona fide applause and manufactured applause, says he believes in getting on the safe side and cutting out all applause.

It was formerly the practice of the members to insert "applause," "enthusiastic applause," "loud and prolonged applause," "applause interrupted by cheering," and "tumultuous laughter and applause" wherever they thought such outbursts should have taken place in their remarks.

This was frowned upon by the house, but another method was discovered which served the purpose.

A member who was ready to deliver a speech for home consumption brought his applause into the house with him. A colleague seated a few seats away clapped his hands at regular intervals, and the faithful official reporters of debates inserted "applause" in their notes.

SUGAR MEN ON TRIAL

Are Charged With Conspiracy to Violate Sherman Law.

New York, March 12.—The trial of Washington B. Thomas, former president and now chairman of the American Sugar Refining company; John E. Parsons, former counsel and member of the executive committee; Arthur Donner and John Mayer, former directors; George H. Frazier, and Thomas B. Harned, a Philadelphia lawyer, was begun here in the United States district court.

All are under indictment, charged with conspiracy to violate the Sherman law, through the company's acquisition of the Pennsylvania Sugar Refining company. There are fourteen counts in the indictment, and the maximum penalty is one year of imprisonment and a $5000 fine on each count.

The indictments against Charles Senff, director, and Gestave E. Kissel, agent of the company, who have died since the finding of the indictments, were nolleed, upon motion of District Attorney Wise. John Mayer, a former director, was unable to appear because of illness, and in his case, the court ordered a severance of the indictments from the remaining defendants, necessitating his separate trial.

DEAD IN ROLLING CHAIR

Atlantic City Visitor Stricken on the Boardwalk.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 12.—A small boy playfully shoved a rolling chair in which reposed an unidentified man, sending it clear across the Boardwalk into the opposite rail.

The occupant did not move. Visitors smiled as the little joker repeated the shove. When this did not arouse the man the attendant looked into his face, then tried to awaken him.

Instead of being asleep the man was dead. An ambulance was summoned and the body was taken to the hospital, where it was discovered that life had been extinct for at least two hours. During that time the body had been propped up in a rolling chair at New Jersey avenue on the Boardwalk, in plain view of hundreds of promenaders who brushed by believing him to be asleep.

Nothing was found on the body to identify the dead man. Heart trouble caused his death.

Snow Impedes Railway Traffic.

Kansas City, Mo., March 12.—For the third time in three weeks heavy snow interfered with railway traffic in the Missouri valley. From five to seven inches of snow fell over Missouri and from one to three inches in Nebraska and Iowa. A light snow fell in north and eastern Kansas and a light rain in Southern Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. The trains from the west are running behind schedule.

T. R. Congratulates Amundsen.

COATESVILLE SCHOOL BURNS

Main Building of the High School Destroyed.

Coatesville, Pa., March 12.—Fire in the main building of the Coatesville High School caused a loss estimated at $30,000.

The structure was completely wrecked by the flames, which are believed to have been started by the blowing out of an electric light switch.

Wings on both sides were saved by good work of the fire department. Several firemen were hurt by falling walls. The loss is covered by insurance.

The fire started on the third floor of the main building and by the time the fire department arrived the flames were bursting out at the top of the structure. Two "steamers" were put to work and the men from the various industries responded to a general alarm. In a half hour the blaze was under control, and at least $100,000 worth of adjacent property was saved.

Nothing but the walls remain of the burned building which contained all the public schools supplies, entailing a loss independent of the building of $20,000.

CARNEGIE TELLS OF AIDING ROOSEVELT

Felt Honored to Contribute to African Expedition.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 12.—Andrew Carnegie contributed to help defray expenses involved in Colonel Roosevelt's African expedition.

The contribution was made after Mr. Carnegie had talked to Colonel Wolcott, of the Smithsonian Institution. Colonel Roosevelt never asked Mr. Carnegie to contribute a cent for any purpose.

This information is contained in a statement made here by Mr. Carnegie. He does not say what sum he contributed.

Mr. Carnegie said: "My attention to the need of funds was called by Colonel Wolcott, of the Smithsonian Institution, and I contributed, feeling honored in doing so. Colonel Roosevelt has never—either as president or as a private citizen—requested me to contribute one penny for anything; he presented the Carnegie Institute at Pittsburgh with some of the trophies of his hunt, for which I am his debtor for life. If that story (that Carnegie gave Roosevelt $20,000 for the African trip) has been brought out as an attack on Colonel Roosevelt, in my opinion, it will only benefit him."

KEEP WATCH ON GERMANS

Nothing Objectable in Deal for Coaling Station Near Panama.

Washington, March 12.—The state department has been watching for five months negotiations of a German steamship and fruit concern for a coaling station on the northern shore of Colombia, near the Panama canal.

The department has failed to find evidence to warrant the assumption that the movement is anything but a purely business proposition and entirely unobjectionable to this government.

It is said there has been no suggestion of the passing of sovereignty over the proposed wharves or tracts of land and therefore the Monroe doctrine has not in any way been called into question.

Various foreign steamship lines, it is pointed out at the state department, already have coaling stations in South America, held under lease or sale, but without the passing of sovereignty.

Jersey Catsup Seized.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 12.—The federal authorities here seized $280 bottles of tomato catsup shipped from a New Jersey plant. Steps have been taken to have the stuff destroyed, although the bottles are labeled choice. It is contended by the government that they contain 60,000,000 bacteria to each one-sixtieth of a cubic millimeter.

Aged Pair Perish in Fire.

Erie, Pa., March 12.—Mrs. John McCumber, aged eighty-five, was burned to death, and her husband, aged ninety-two years, was fatally burned in attempting to rescue her at their farm. Mrs. McCumber was ill and McCumber was preparing breakfast when he discovered the fire. Before neighbors could help the roof had fallen.

MAY INVESTIGATE BASE BALL TRUST

Representative Introduces Such a Request in House.

Washington, March 12.—A congressional investigation of the "base ball trust," the most audacious and autocratic trust in the country," was proposed in a resolution introduced by Representative Gallagher, of Illinois.

The measure would create a special committee of seven representatives to inquire of the department of justice "what steps have been taken against the base ball trust as against other illegal combinations," to subpoena witnesses and employ assistants.

It accused the "base ball trust" of presuming "to control the base ball game, its officials announcing daily through the press the dictates of a governing commission, how competition is stifled, territory and games apportioned, prices fixed which millions must pay to witness the sport, how men are enslaved and forced to accept salaries and terms or be forever barred from playing."

Mr. Gallagher said the department of justice knew that there was such a trust under the law and that he would confer with the department in a day or two.

MATCH STICKS FATAL

Man Who Chewed Them Habitually Dies.

Camden, N. J., March 12.—Charles McShea, aged twenty-six, died at Cooper hospital from phosphorus poisoning induced in a peculiar way.

He had been for years a habitual chewer of match sticks. He would break off the heads and chew the wood. When a stick had been reduced to a pulp he would reject it and start another.

The phosphorus which was absorbed by the wood above the head is almost too small to be measured, but long continued use of the matches introduced so much of the phosphorus into the system of McShea that two weeks ago he became ill, and it was found that the tissues of his mouth, throat and intestines were so infected with the poison that he had no chance of recovery.

ROOSEVELT WILL REPLY TO TAFT

Will Further Explain His Position in Regard to Trusts.

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 12.—A further analysis of Colonel Roosevelt's position in regard to the control of "big business" will probably be the next of the ex-president's campaign documents to be presented to the public.

It is no secret that Colonel Roosevelt does not approve of the way in which the administration has handled the trust problem, but it is understood that he will present the constructive rather than the critical side of his views. He has been angered by the attempt to make political capital out of the connection of some of his supporters with the International Harvester company and other big corporations, and the charge that while president he held up action in such cases, and although he has not announced the date of his reply to his critics, it may be that it will be contained in the expected statement.

When Colonel Roosevelt was asked about his coming speaking tour he said that he hoped it would be a short one. He said that no definite plans had been made on account of the uncertainty as to when his jury service will end, and that at present there are only two fixed dates on his calendar, St. Patrick's Day, when he will speak in Huntington, and Decoration Day, when he talks to the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on the Gettysburg battlefield.

DELAY CONFIRMING PITNEY

Nomination Fought Hour and a Half in Executive Session.

Washington, March 12.—The nomination of Mahlon W. Pitney, chancellor of the state of New Jersey, to be an associate justice of the supreme court, succeeding the late John M. Harlan, was fought an hour and a half in the executive session of the senate and action was finally deferred.

Senator Reed attacked Chancellor Pitney's decision in the glass bottle blowers' case, in which the chancellor wrote a majority opinion, sustaining a restraining order which prohibited strikers from picketing. The debate was hot.

Senator Borah defended Mr. Pitney and analyzed the decision on which the opposition was based. Senator Culberson and others joined in the opposition. Senators Clark of Arkansas; O'Gorman, of New York, and Watson, of West Virginia, announced that they wanted an opportunity to discuss the case and the nomination went over.

Presidential Primaries in Bay State.

Boston, March 12.—Presidential preferential primaries on April 30 to select all delegates to the coming national political conventions are practically assured by the passage of a primary bill in the senate in concurrence with the house. Under the provisions of the bill all parties will hold primaries on April 30. Democrats in the legislature expect Governor Foss to sign the bill.
